

Contract for Website

We propose to make a professional website for Kent Jimison with the following understandings:

What we propose to make and/or do:

We plan to develop a professional webpage for Kent Jimison that will act as both a platform for advertisement and client contact. We plan to have an operational prototype for the webpage by May 11th 2017.

What we need from Kent Jimison to accomplish this task

Any photos and or artwork that can be used as graphical reinforcement to the page. We plan to contact Kent Jimison every couple weeks with progress in order to maintain a vision for both our team and Kent Jimison. We need a commitment of contact time for reviews and changes.

What will happen when these guidelines change

Requirements naturally change during the development of a project, but these changes must be agreed upon and may affect what components are delivered in the end.

What we expect in compensation

You will be giving us a grade for our work on this project, and it will have a substantial impact on our overall grade for our Software Engineering course.

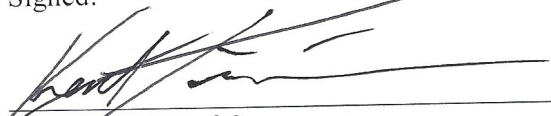

What limitations we have

We are a student team and this is a student project. This project comes with no particular guarantees, including in particular warranty or suitability for a particular purpose, or long-term support. Deploying to the real world will be your choice doing so we will not support the application any further than initial development and prototype.

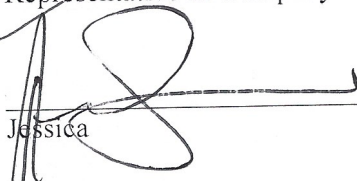

Ownership and Fair Use of Intellectual Property

The Intellectual Property created during this project (for example software, business processes, and artwork) is granted permanently for use and extension for the business owner, but is ultimately owned by the respective creator(s) who are not limited to reuse or extend this work elsewhere.
